T2202A: Tuition, Education and Textbooks Certificate

The T2202A is the Tuition & Education Amounts Certificate and the information on the form is used for reporting to Revenue Canada for Income Tax Purposes.

The University of Toronto will issue a T2202A certificate if:

- The student was enrolled during the calendar year (January to December) in a qualifying educational program;
- The University received payment(s) applicable to eligible tuition fees for academic session(s) in the calendar year.

Please refer to the Canada Revenue Agency Income Tax Guidelines for instructions on using this form.

Education and Textbook Tax Credits New for 2017 Tax Year

The tax certificate has been renamed to T2202A Tuition and Enrolment Certificate.

Effective January 1, 2017, the federal education and textbook credits were eliminated.

This measure did not eliminate the tuition tax credit, and does not affect the ability to carry forward unused education and textbook credit amounts from years prior to 2017.

- If you have unused education amounts from years prior to 2017 they can be carried forward to claim on your 2017 and subsequent tax returns.
- For tax years prior to 2017, you can claim the textbook amount if you are entitled to claim the education amount. Unused textbook amounts from years prior to 2017 can be carried forward.

Depending on your province or territory of residence (where you file your tax return), you may still be able to claim provincial or territorial education and textbook amounts in 2017.

The following provinces or territories have made changes to these credits/amounts:

- New Brunswick has eliminated its tuition and education tax credits for years after 2016.
- Ontario will only allow eligible tuition fees paid for periods of enrolment before September 5, 2017, and education amounts for periods of enrolment before September 2017.
- Yukon has eliminated its education and textbook tax credits for years after 2016. Tuition fees can still be claimed.
- Saskatchewan will allow eligible tuition fees paid and education amounts only for periods of enrolment before July 2017.

You can view the 2017 T2202A on ACORN starting on February 21, 2018.

This T2202A displays separate lines for each session period: Winter (Jan-April), Summer (May-Aug), Fall (Sept-Dec).

If you are a student who will file a 2017 tax return in Saskatchewan and who paid for 2017 Summer session Tuition fees, then the Student Accounts Office will manually revise the 2017 T2202A certificate to display separate lines for May-June, and July to August so that you can claim eligible tuition fees paid and education amounts only for periods of enrolment before July 2017.

Please send an email request from your utoronto.ca email address for a revised 2017 T2202A to info.studentaccount@utoronto.ca.

Please record 'Request for 2017 T2202A for Saskatchewan Students' in the email subject line. Processing time will be 5-10 business days.

A scanned copy of the revised T2202A will be sent to your utoronto.ca email address.

What do the tuition credit amounts on the T2202A mean?

The amounts reported on the certificate include the portion of tuition fee payments applicable to each academic session attended in the current calendar year. The three session periods are January to April (winter), May to August (summer), and September to December (fall).

Only the portions of tuition fee payments that are eligible for tuition credit are reported on the certificate. The allowable fees are defined by the Canada Revenue Agency. Student society incidental fees, residence and service charge fees are examples of ineligible fee payments that are excluded from the tuition amounts reported on the certificate.

If you paid the total fee (for the fall session of the current calendar year and the winter session of the following calendar year) in the current calendar year, only the portion which is applicable to the academic session attended in the current calendar year (the fall session – September to December) will be listed on the current year certificate.

If you paid for the fall session (September to December) of the previous calendar year in the current calendar year, when the fee payment is recorded in the ROSI student account, the previous calendar year T2202A certificate will be automatically revised on the Student Web Service.

If the amount on the certificate is incorrect, students can contact Student Accounts at 416-978-2142 or at info.studentaccount@utoronto.ca.
